

Patricia Curley
Edgecomb

Yes. The reduction of harmful waste is a moral responsibility. Toxins from mixed heavy metals, mercury, plastics, and other chemicals are especially toxic during the development of babies and children brains, causing neurological damage. It's imperative to protect Maine waters.