Annual Report of Insurance Fraud and Abuse for 2020

The data contained in this report is based upon annual survey information which insurers are required to report to the Bureau of Insurance pursuant to 24-A M.R.S.A. §2186(4)(A)(B) and Maine Insurance Rule Chapter 920. The report contains information on:

- the number of suspected fraudulent cases and claims, by line of insurance
- the amounts paid and the amounts denied for those cases and claims
- the number of suspected fraudulent acts reported to or referred to law enforcement and other agencies.

Number of Suspected Fraudulent Cases and Claims Reported by Line of Business

Table 1 shows the number of suspected fraudulent cases and claims, for 2020, reported by line of business, along with the amounts paid and denied for those cases and claims.

Because one case may involve more than one fraudulent claim, the number of claims may not equal the number of cases of suspected fraudulent activity.

The highest number of suspected fraudulent cases were reported for Auto, followed by Health, then Workers' Compensation.

When looking at the percentage of amounts denied to the total of amounts paid and denied, four lines of business each had more than 10 percent of its suspected fraudulent claim amounts denied: Health (76%), Life (65%), Homeowners (17%), and Automobile (16%).

Note: Some companies reported cases but did not report claims, and some reported claims but did not report cases.

Number of Suspected Fraudulent Insurance Acts Reported/Referred to Law Enforcement and Other Agencies

In 2020, a total of 271 suspected fraudulent acts were reported or referred to law enforcement and other agencies. This is a slightly more than 6% decrease from the 288 reported in 2019.

The highest number of referrals were made to the National Insurance Crime Bureau, with 156.

There were 96 referrals made to “Other Agencies.” Of the referrals to Other Agencies, 51 were made to the Maine Bureau of Insurance, and 6 were made to the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC).
