Testimony of GrowSmart Maine to the Housing Commission formed through LD 609 Resolve, To Establish a Commission To Increase Housing Opportunities in Maine by Studying Zoning and Land Use Restrictions

October 7, 2021

Senator Hickman, Speaker Fecteau, and Commissioners, I am sorry I cannot attend today's meeting of the Commission. I have listened to your meetings and thank each of you for your thoughtful engagement on these important issues. You may be aware that GrowSmart Maine strongly supported LD 609, and did so in partnership with members of the Maine Alliance for Smart Growth listed at the end of our testimony.

GrowSmart Maine board member Jeff Levine serves on this Commission, and it makes sense for me to frame my remarks in large part by responding to the letter he shared with fellow commissioners last week. I'll be brief and focus on specific recommendations for your consideration.

Though my easiest option would be to write, "what Jeff said" to endorse his letter, I do so with the addition of several remarks related to his recommendations and based on our testimony on several bills this past session.

- State Action #1 seems to reflect the intent of LD 446 to reestablish the State Planning Office, and that bill died on the Appropriations Table at the end of session. But truly, his recommendation could and should direct additional capacity and resources to the Department of Community and Economic Development to address housing issues. Housing is, after all, at the core of community and economic development. Communities across Maine would welcome easily accessible state-level support on housing issues.

- State Action #2 supports the land bank component of LD 1694, which has been carried over to next session. In our testimony on this bill, we fully supported the land bank framework, while outlining numerous concerns on other aspects of the bill.

In addition to Jeff's recommendations, I encourage you to consider including a recommendation to update the Growth Management Act, which dictates the purpose and content of municipal comprehensive plans. This is a key component of LD 1240, which has been carried over to next session. An endorsement from this Commission would be powerful, based on the testimony you've heard regarding frustration with the irrelevance of comprehensive plans in addressing housing issues. These plans can and should be critical tools leading to prioritized implementation of key strategies. I believe that Jeff Levine's Community Action #4 is just one example of improvements that can be made to the Act.

Finally, there are other components of LD 1240 that reach beyond the targeted focus of this commission, though related directly to your goals. This commission's recognition of the value of these regional issues in addressing housing choice would be critical when this bill is considered again next session.

In addition to the Growth Management Act update, LD 1240 recommends these actions:

- An assessment of the implications of housing choices of state and regional transportation investments and policies, produced with the advice of the Department of Transportation and regional transportation agencies;
- Identification of regional approaches to address significant mill rate differentials between rural and urban service center hubs and surrounding communities that increase associated living expenses by driving housing out of established communities; and
- Strategies for offering choices to local governments about how to meet statewide housing goals through their comprehensive plans and land use codes.

Best,

Nancy E Smith
