

STATE OF MAINE
ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST LEGISLATURE
FIRST SPECIAL SESSION
JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

In Senate Chamber
Thursday
April 20, 2023

Senate called to order by President Troy D. Jackson of Aroostook County.

Prayer by Pastor Glenn Peterson of the Hope Baptist Church in Manchester.

PASTOR PETERSON: Let's pray. Lord God, many of the people of Maine today, including these Senators, are grieving, sighing, somewhat angry, and definitely sad over what happened in Bowdoin and on 295 on Tuesday. We are weary of the madness. How long, O' Lord, until You return and put an end to all violence, whether it's in homes or highways or the hallways of schools, the crowded space of a Sweet-16 party or in the chambers of our hearts. When will the dawn break on the day of no more fruitless arguments between friends or spiteful anger between families? No more pointing of guns or even pointing of fingers. Jesus, when will peace be our leader and wellbeing our ruler? Can you hurry it up, please? Jesus, You promised that wolves and lambs, calves and lions will live together one day in kindness, and that Your glory, not our lovelessness, will cover the earth as the waters cover the sea. When is that actually going to happen, Lord? We crave it. I can hardly imagine only using our words to praise You and to encourage each other. Never again weaponizing our disappointments or even thinking ill of anyone. Until then, Jesus, help these Senators, and all of us, to live by the gospel, not by the sword. May we live by the way of sacrifice and love and Your cross, not by the gracelessness in our hearts. May we add to the kindness and not to the madness. In the name of the Prince of Peace, we pray. Amen.

National Anthem Performed by Terrance Coley, Sr. of Lewiston.

Pledge of Allegiance led by Senator Joseph Rafferty of York County.

Reading of the Journal of Tuesday, April 18, 2023.

Doctor of the Day, Diane Zavotsky, M.D. of Embden.

Off Record Remarks

Out of order and under suspension of the Rules, the Senate considered the following:

ORDERS

Joint Resolution

WHEREAS, the Legislature has learned with deep regret of the death of:

Mark Charles Geiger, of Arrowsic. Mr. Geiger founded Preservation House Painters and maintained historic buildings up and down the New England coast for over 40 years. He was a staunch environmentalist and an active member in his community and local politics. Mr. Geiger will be long remembered and sadly missed by his family and friends;

SLS 406

Sponsored by Senator VITELLI of Sagadahoc.
Cosponsored by Representative: HEPLER of Woolwich.

The Joint Resolution was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Sagadahoc, Senator Vitelli.

Senator VITELLI: Thank you, Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, I rise this morning sad of heart but full of joy as well for having known Mark Geiger as a member of my small community in Arrowsic over many, many years. Mark was a devoted husband, father, and community member. He was active in our town, was a good neighbor, and a friend to all. Mark had a wonderful sense of humor. He loved music. He took an active interest in politics, the environment. Whatever the issues of the day were, he would be more than willing to get into a discussion with you on what he cared about. Oftentimes, we would disagree, but we always had great conversations going forward. In addition, I am most grateful for Mark's role as a business owner and an employer of Preservation House Painters. Both of my sons were his employees at different periods of time. Mark not only taught them a skill, a very useful skill, I will say, but he also taught them how to put in a good day's work, how to do a quality job, that if something was worth doing, it was worth doing well. Mark had a high level of quality expectations for the people who worked for him, and he taught that to my sons. They learned about teamwork, about how to get things done, but also how to have fun. Thursday barbecues were a favorite day of the week, when Mark would treat his employees to some good grub, and they would appreciate each other even as they worked really hard to get the job done. I really wish that there were more folks in the world like Mark. He was full of joy, full of passion, and he contributed mightily to the fabric of our community. I am pleased to have with us today his wife, his son, and his two grandchildren, who would - I know Mark would be delighted were here on his behalf to receive this recognition from the Maine State Senate. Thank you, Mr. President.

The Joint Resolution was ADOPTED.

Sent down for concurrence.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair would like to recognize in the rear of the Chamber the Geiger family: Jennifer, Trevor, Johan, and Oren. They're all from Arrowsic. The guests today of the Senator from Sagadahoc, Senator Vitelli, and the entire Maine Senate. Would they please rise and accept the condolences of the Maine Senate.

Out of order and under suspension of the Rules, on motion by Senator VITELLI of Sagadahoc, the following Joint Order:

RESOLVED: That We, the Members of the One Hundred and Thirty-first Legislature now assembled in the First Special Session, on behalf of the people we represent, take this opportunity to designate April 2023 as Arab American Heritage Month.

Comes from the House, READ and ADOPTED.

The Joint Resolution was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Penobscot, Senator Baldacci.

Senator BALDACCI: Thank you, Mr. President, and I just want to first say I appreciate my colleagues' indulgence on this matter. This is the first time I had to ask this Resolution as - since being in the State Senate, to be read. It really exemplifies the lives that my grandmother and her sisters all lived and this - these remarks are really dedicated to those four young women from Lebanon who came to this country in the 1910s and really to all immigrants who come to this country even today. These young women were my grandmother, Rose Saad Karam, and her sisters. They came to America as teenagers who literally had not a penny to their names, but what they did have was a belief in faith, family, and hard work that transcended nationality. Today, the Head of Falls area in Waterville is a very bucolic and nice park. In the 1910s, that area was filled with tenements of poor Lebanese and Syrian immigrants, and that is where my grandmother and great-aunts lived, and that is where my mom was born. Connected to this area today is still what is called the Two-Penny Bridge. The Lebanese had to pay two pennies to walk across the bridge and go to their jobs at the textile mills. My sittoo, which is Arabic for grandmother, and her sisters, Mintaha and Mary, worked at these mills. My aunt Mintaha lived in Waterville all of her life. She married a young Irish orphan who had been adopted and raised by a Lebanese couple, and his name, that young orphan's name was George Mitchell, Sr. My grandmother Rose married a young Lebanese immigrant from Bangor and started a small grocery store in Bangor. When I think of all the hateful actions and attitudes directed towards today's new Americans, I remember that this has happened many times before and somehow, with faith and freedom, we have overcome before and we will, as Americans, continue to welcome new people to our great democracy, and we will continue to move forward as one nation under God. Thank you.

The Joint Resolution was ADOPTED, in concurrence.

THE PRESIDENT: Senator Baldacci, I'm glad that you spoke on that today.

Joint Resolution

On motion by Senator BENNETT of Oxford (Cosponsored by Representative PERRY of Bangor and Senators: BALDACCI of Penobscot, GROHOSKI of Hancock, HARRINGTON of York, Representatives: FAULKINGHAM of Winter Harbor, GREENWOOD of Wales, WARREN of Scarborough), the following Joint Resolution:

S.P. 705

JOINT RESOLUTION MAKING SEPARATE APPLICATIONS TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES CALLING CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTIONS TO CONSIDER REPRESENTATIONAL INTEGRITY AND PROPOSE AMENDMENTS ESTABLISHING TERM LIMITS FOR CONGRESS AND ADDRESSING CAMPAIGN FINANCE REFORM

WHEREAS, the United States Constitution, Article V places substantial authority and responsibility upon the legislatures of the several states to ensure that the Federal Government and each of its branches remain within their enumerated powers and remain protective of the rights of the people; and WHEREAS, a variety of important movements have arisen within the legislatures of the several states to address a wide variety of concerns that may be appropriately addressed within the context of Article V of the United States Constitution; and WHEREAS, the Legislature of Maine wishes to address these various approaches in a bipartisan manner; and WHEREAS, an agreement to call for a convention under Article V of the United States Constitution does not commit the Legislature of Maine to approve any proposal that may arise from any subsequent convention; rather, this Legislature is simply exercising its will to engage in a formal process with other states to give full and authoritative consideration to various proposals consistent with the topics expressed by this joint resolution; and WHEREAS, under the United States Constitution, Article V, the Congress of the United States, whenever two-thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to the United States Constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments that, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the United States Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress; now, therefore, be it RESOLVED: That the Legislature of Maine hereby applies to the Congress of the United States, under the provisions of Article V of the United States Constitution, to call a convention of the states limited to proposing an amendment to the United States Constitution to set a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected to the United States House of Representatives and to set a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected to the United States Senate; and be it further RESOLVED: That this application is intended to address the same subject matter as applications from other states under the provisions of Article V of the United States Constitution to call a convention to set a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected to the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and this application must be aggregated with the same for the purpose of attaining the two-thirds of states necessary to require Congress to call a limited convention on this subject, but may not be aggregated with any other applications on any other subject; and be it further RESOLVED: That the Legislature of Maine hereby applies to the Congress of the United States, under the provisions of Article V of the United States Constitution, to call a convention of the states limited to proposing an amendment to the United States Constitution to regulate the role of money in elections and governance to ensure transparency, prevent corruption, protect against the buying of access to or influence over representatives and overturn the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission and related cases; and be it further RESOLVED: That this application is intended to address the same subject matter as applications from other states under the provisions of Article V of the United States Constitution to call a convention to regulate the role of money in elections and governance to ensure transparency, prevent corruption, protect against the buying of access to or influence over representatives and overturn the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission and related cases; and this application must be aggregated with the same for the purpose of attaining the two-thirds of states necessary to require Congress to call a limited convention on this subject, but may not be aggregated with any other applications on any other subject; and be it further RESOLVED: That these applications constitute continuing applications in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution until the legislatures of at least two-thirds of the several states have made applications on the same subjects; and be it further

RESOLVED: That suitable copies of this resolution, duly authenticated by the Secretary of State, be transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate and presiding officers of both houses of the legislatures of each of the several states in the nation, the Speaker and Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, the President and Secretary of the United States Senate and each member of the Maine Congressional Delegation.

The Joint Resolution was READ.

Senator BENNETT of Oxford moved the Joint Resolution be REFERRED to the Committee on VETERANS AND LEGAL AFFAIRS.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Oxford, Senator Bennett.

Senator BENNETT: Thank you, Mr. President. Joint Resolutions such as this is customarily sent to committee and, in this particular case, it particularly should. It is a Joint Resolution that's bipartisan in nature, seeking to resolve the impasse on a couple of very important issues that relate to the proper functioning of our federal government. In particular, campaign finance reform and the questions that have been raised by Citizens United, and also congressional term limits. It's very important that the committee, I think, take - it's a novel approach, of joining two Article 5 calls into one document, and I am hopeful that the Senate will not defer action on this, but would rather send this off to committee so that it can be considered properly and try this experiment in innovation with respect to these two issues which have plagued our nation for many, many years. Thank you, Mr. President.

Senator VITELLI of Sagadahoc moved the Joint Resolution be TABLED until Later in Today's Session, pending the motion by Senator BENNETT of Oxford to REFER to the Committee on VETERANS AND LEGAL AFFAIRS.

On motion by Senator BENNETT of Oxford, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Carney.

Senator CARNEY: Thank you, Mr. President. Colleagues of the Senate, I just wish to speak briefly on this bill because I think it's so important. What it does is it adapts our laws for a new process that's being used by public safety officials. With the increasing use of electronic summons and complaint processes, and soon-to-be-added electronic warrant systems, we have the situation where confidential personally identifying information goes into a database on its way to the court system and basically what this legislation does is it protects all Mainers from data mining companies making FOIA requests for that personally identifying information during the brief time that it rests in that database, and what this bill does is it makes that information confidential. It's still a public record when it gets to the courthouse, but it basically protects Mainers from this kind of broad scale harvesting of personally identifying information and I would ask that you support the motion. Thank you.

On motion by Senator KEIM of Oxford, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Carney.

Senator CARNEY: Thank you, Mr. President. Colleagues of the Senate, I just wish to speak to you about this important bill. LD 564 is an Act to Improve Access to Civil Legal Services. What this legislation does is it increases funding for civil legal services that are used throughout our state to help Mainers with low or no income in a range of civil matters. From helping veterans access benefits they earned through serving our country in the armed forces - and I would just note that Maine is a leader in the nation in providing civil legal services to both Mainers - and actually our resources are used by veterans across the country - as well as to, for example, protecting older Mainers from financial exploitation and other harm. Funding requested in this bill will be distributed to the seven legal services providers through the Civil Legal Services Fund Commission, which is a commission created by our statutes consisting of three persons knowledgeable about the problems of ensuring access to justice in this state, and they determine how to distribute the funds in a manner that will be most efficiently and effectively maintained and enhance access to justice in Maine. If enacted, LD 564 aims to provide $3.9 million in the first year of this biennium and $7.8 million in the second year of this biennium, although in reality it will probably go to the Appropriations Table. Maine's civil legal services agencies, I would like to share with you, provide excellent representation to Mainers throughout our state on critical matters that vulnerable families face; including the custody of a child, the loss of a home, essential services for veterans, financial exploitation, domestic violence, unemployment, and food insecurity. We can and must do everything we can to ensure that Maine provides adequate civil legal aid funding to meet the challenges that Mainers throughout our state with no or low-income face and I urge you all to support the pending motion. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The pending question before the Senate is Acceptance of the Majority Ought to Pass as Amended Report. A roll call has been ordered. Is the Senate ready for the question?

The Doorkeepers secured the Chamber.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Androscoggin, Senator Brakey.

Senator BRAKEY: Thank you, Mr. President and colleagues of the Senate. The right to work is as natural and unalienable as any other right that we possess. This legislation before us is the product of collaboration between lawmakers and it would direct the Department of Labor to request a federal waiver to allow presumptive work eligibility for asylum seekers who reside here in the state of Maine. This collaboration between lawmakers has come together despite many disagreements over many of the other questions involved in the immigration debate but, instead of focusing on those questions that divide us, we focused on areas of shared common ground. In the years past, there were fierce arguments in this Chamber over whether asylum seekers should qualify for taxpayer funded welfare programs and that's not the subject of this bill today. I'm sure there're going to be debates in the future around all of that. As far as I can tell, the Speaker of the House, who is the lead co-sponsor on this bill with me, she and I are probably as far apart on that question as any two members of this legislature can be, but that did not stop us from collaborating on this bill. Those disagreements did not stop other members of this Body, including Senator Hickman, Senator Stewart, Senator Keim, and Senator Bennett, from joining on as co-sponsors of this legislation and members of all four caucuses in the legislature from signing on and even received a unanimous report from the Committee on Labor and Housing, a rare moment of agreement between Senator Tipping and myself. However, we got into the situation where we are today. The facts are pretty straight forward. We have a workforce shortage. We also have many asylum seekers residing in Maine who would gladly work available jobs and federal laws standing in the way. For any familiar with the terminology, an asylum seeker is a non-citizen who has requested to remain in America on the grounds that they have been forcibly displaced from their home country due to war or other factors harming them or their family. Evaluating that request can take many years. If granted asylum, they are authorized to work, apply for a social security card, request permission to travel overseas, petition to bring family members, and qualify for federal welfare benefits. If denies, they are not allowed to remain in the country. In the space between applying and receiving a determination, asylum seekers are caught in a legal limbo that can stretch on for years. They're allowed to remain in the country but they are not eligible for federal welfare benefits. They are prohibited from working for the first six months after they file for asylum and they must renew a work permit annually afterwards. Additionally, even when filing to renew a work permit on time, federal officers are often backed up with renewal requests and delayed renewals regularly require asylum seekers in Maine to leave jobs that they are already well established and creating disfunction for them and for their employer. Here in Maine, we are one of a handful of states that has responded to this situation by making asylum seekers eligible for state taxpayer funded welfare benefits, primarily for the general assistance program. This policy has always been controversial and only stands today due to a botched pocket veto that I won't go into the history of, but there is some interesting history there all the same, and there were many heated debates around that policy. But even as I chaired the Health and Human Services Committee along side Representative Drew Gattine and former-Representative Patty Hymanson, Republican and Democrat caucuses could all agree on one thing, that the federal prohibition of work just makes everything in this entire situation much worse. Whatever your individual view on broader questions of immigration and welfare eligibility, it is clearly better for society, as a whole, when people are allowed to be in - who are allowed to be in this country are collecting paychecks instead of welfare checks and any policy that would prohibit a man from earning an honest days wage to care for his family and reduce him instead to total dependency on taxpayer funded welfare benefits is an insult to the work ethic America was built upon and the dignity of the human spirit. In those years on Health and Human Services, we discussed several potential solutions, including the possibility of state nullification, just as Maine nullified federal cannabis prohibition, by establishing in state statute that asylum seekers can work in the state of Maine. The flaw in that idea, however, was that asylum seekers ultimate immigration status hangs on a determination from the federal government. No matter what state law says, violations of federal work prohibitions can result in the denial of an asylum application. So, we left those conversations with clear resolution other than a unanimous decision to send a letter to our federal delegation asking them to work on the issue. Half a decade later, I appreciate the work that's been done, but they're still working on the issue. Along with the co-sponsors from all four caucuses, I introduced this bill to give Washington D.C. just another push and a suggested pathway for granting presumptive work eligibility for asylum seekers here in Maine. This bill would do exactly what it says. It would just direct the Department of Labor to request a federal waiver to allow presumptive work eligibility for asylum seekers. If that waiver were granted, it would mean asylum seekers in Maine, instead of being sent to the state welfare office the moment they applied, can instead be directed to a job fair to contribute to the community that they are joining and earn an honest living in the American way. Now, some have questioned whether the federal government will even accept requests for waivers on the work prohibition. I say send the request anyway. Conversation on this legislation in Maine has sparked desire for waivers in other states across the union and the more states demonstrate demand for waivers the more it raises the issue in Congress. Further, passing this legislation would present directly to Washington a federalist solution more politically viable than a one-size fits all change effecting all 50 states. As I understand it, the work prohibitions are driven, at least in part, by concerns in southern states about immediate work eligibility incentivizing illegal border crossings and false asylum applications. From up here in New England, I'm not qualified to tell Arizona or Texas what makes sense in their unique position on the Mexican border. At the same time, this one-size fits all policy based on the situations of southern states is contributing to economic chaos here in Maine. So, a vote for this legislation simply tells Washington D.C. that Maine wants a waiver to let people work. Thank you for your time and consideration. I hope you join me in passing this legislation today and, furthermore, I request a roll call on the pending motion.

On motion by Senator BRAKEY of Androscoggin, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

The Doorkeepers secured the Chamber.
